

AMERICAN NOTE TO GERMANY IS DELAYED IN TRANSMISSION

COMMUNICATION PROBABLY WILL NOT BE PRESENTED UNTIL TODAY

Diplomats Believe Germany Will Not Delay Consideration of Note—Document is Approved by Representatives of Allied Powers as Well as Neutral Envoys—German Embassy Remains Silent.

WASHINGTON, May 14.—The note sent to Germany yesterday by the United States government as a sequel to the Lusitania disaster was delayed in transmission because of congested cables and probably will not be presented by Ambassador Gerard to the minister of foreign affairs in Berlin until some time tomorrow.

Secretary Bryan received a message from Ambassador Thomas Nelson Page at Rome, saying the note, which had been addressed to the American embassy there to be forwarded by telegraph, had arrived at 2 p. m. today and that in an hour and forty minutes it had been copied and relayed to Berlin by telegraph, via Vienna. The reason for the delay was not stated but state department messages have frequently been held up in their circuitous routes because they are in code and require careful sending to assure accuracy of the cipher groups. The note had been sent over the German-French cable from New York to Havre and thence by telegraph through France to the American embassy at Rome. Inasmuch as it would require a few hours to decipher the note, it was believed by state department officials that it would not be ready for presentation until late this evening and unless Ambassador Gerard had arranged a special engagement with the foreign minister, it probably would not be read to Mr. Von Jagow until tomorrow.

Official Washington talked of little else than the note today. The practically unanimous approval given it in the editorial comment of the American press, the statements of governors, senators and members of the house was re-inforced by an incessant stream of messages from persons of every political party and from a variety of organizations and associations.

Wilson Appreciates Support.

President Wilson told his callers he was deeply grateful and appreciated the patriotic support that was being given him on every side.

The president appeared somewhat relieved of the strain of the last week. This was due to the fact that there probably would be no further development in the situation until some intimation came from Ambassador Gerard as to how the officials of the German government informally regarded the tone and requests of the note. Tonight the president went away on his yacht, the Mayflower with members of his family for a quiet trip to New York, where he will review the Atlantic fleet.

Note is Widely Discussed.

In diplomatic quarters there was wide discussion of the note to Germany. Among representatives of the allied powers the document was approved as well as by neutral envoys, many of whom obtained copies from the state department. The German embassy—the one place where it was natural to look for some inkling or intimation of what Germany's position would be—remained silent. Count Von Bernstorff, the German ambassador, in fact called on Secretary Bryan with the express purpose of warning him that none of the published stories were true which purported to give anonymous views of members of the embassy staff to the effect that Germany would refuse to meet the American note's suggestions. He asked the co-operation of the state department to prevent the spread of this misinformation and Mr. Bryan made immediate announcement of the request. The German ambassador told inquirers later that he knew absolutely nothing of the position of his government because he had received no communication and naturally would not until the note itself had been presented. He declined to discuss his own views for publication. Some of his friends indicated later that the ambassador was proceeding with the friendly tone of the note and was himself hopeful and confident that the questions in dispute could be satisfactorily settled through the diplomatic.

Expect No Delay.

In all quarters it was believed Germany would not delay her reply, but that high officials of the German government would take it under immediate consideration when it arrived in Berlin. The belief was held by well informed European diplomats that Germany would consider, carefully the military advantages of continued attacks on enemy merchant ships and probably would consent to abandon them only if food supplies were in some way guaranteed, as German confidence is strong that the allies can be kept at bay in the eastern and western theatres of war indefinitely. The effect on Germany's position of the possible entry of Italy into the war, however, is another factor which trained diplomats think will be taken into consideration by Germany in determining whether she will abandon her powerful weapon of attack—the submarine—to destroy enemy commerce. The fact that Germany once before had agreed to give up her submarine warfare if she could obtain the unrestricted passage of foodstuffs and raw materials to her civilian population was commented upon by many diplomats as making it not difficult for her to comply with the American position and satisfy national pride in Germany.

While the United States is expecting prompt action from Germany in guaranteeing that there will be no repetition of such a tragedy as the sinking of the Lusitania, diplomatic construction of the vital issues raised on points of maritime law probably would not be rejected by the American government if as many diplomats think, Germany would of her own initiative suspend all submarine attacks on merchantmen, even of belligerent nationality, while notes were being exchanged.

May Take Week for Answer.

It will take a week at least for the answer from Germany to the American note to be prepared and received here in the opinion of diplomats and officials.

The note was presented in English and in all probability it was not necessary to have it translated before being formally considered. When the German government completes its reply it will be handed by the foreign minister to Ambassador Gerard and will then be translated from the German by the expert translators at the American embassy before being transmitted to the United States.

It is the custom of each country to give diplomatic notes to foreign governments in its own language. Count Bernstorff, the German ambassador here, for example speaks and writes English as fluently as any American, but all his diplomatic communications to the state department are written in German. In case of treaties, there is a formal exchange of translations. This often occurs in case of doubt on any words in diplomatic notes.

The reply from Berlin probably will be forwarded by Ambassador Gerard over the same cable route that was used for the American note—from Berlin through Vienna to Rome by telegraph and then by the Mediterranean cables to New York. In the event telegraphic communication between Vienna and Berlin were cut the ambassador would have to file his telegram over what has proven hitherto a slow route from Berlin to The Hague and then by cable to London and New York.

Delays in London have been frequent because of the congestion of messages to the United States and the British censorship over private communications.

REMOVE BANNERS OF GERMANS FROM ST. GEORGE'S CHAPEL

LONDON, May 14.—(11:48 a. m.)—The Banners of the Garter of Emperor William of Germany and Emperor Francis Joseph of Austria, were removed today from St. George's Chapel, Windsor, without ceremony. At the same time the banners of the king of Wurtemberg, the Grand Duke of Hesse, Prince Henry of Prussia, the Duke of Saxe-Coburg and Gotha and the Duke of Cumberland also were taken away.

These are the Germanic sovereigns and princes whose names were yesterday ordered stricken from the roll of the Knights of the Garter, the famous English order, instituted by Edward III, in 1348.

St. George's Chapel was closed while the removals were being made.

COMMENT ON U. S. NOTE TO GERMANY

NEW HAVEN, Mass., May 14.—Former Governor Baldwin, a recognized authority on international law, said today that he thought the American note to Germany paved the way for an amicable reference to the matter in controversy between Germany and the United States to arbitration under the provision of The Hague convention of 1900 and revised in 1907. By the preamble to the convention the contracting powers, among which were Germany and the United States, pledged themselves by all the efforts in their power to the friendly settlement of international disputes recognizing the solidarity uniting the members of the society of civilized nations and desirous of extending the empire of law.

Governor Baldwin said the question of law raised in the American note is just such a question that The Hague tribunal was organized to determine.

COLUMBUS, O., May 14.—Speaking of President Wilson's note to Germany, Governor Frank B. Willis today said:

"President Wilson's note to the German government is a considerable expression of the firm determination of the United States that its rights shall be respected by belligerents."

"The president has sounded a note of decision and deliberate conviction which will be heard around the world."

"The American people, devoted as they are to peace among nations, will sustain him in his decision."

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., May 14.—President Wilson's efforts to keep this country at peace with all the nations of the world were endorsed by the executive board of the United Mine Workers of America in a resolution adopted today. A copy of the resolution was sent to the president.

The resolution advises that the American Federation of Labor call a congress of all the trade unions in the United States "in the event that war is apparent or that a special session of congress be called to consider this momentous question."

HONOLULU, T. H., May 14.—Members of the congressional party touring the Hawaiian Islands commented today on President Wilson's note to Germany as follows:

Senator James of Kentucky: "The president speaks for all civilization and voices the sentiment of all neutral peoples in warning Germany to cease violating established rights and imperiling lives. We will back up the president's note. It is statesmanlike and patriotic."

The Honorable Charles of Iowa: "I like the tone of the president's note. We should make an emphatic protest against such indescribable violation of international rules."

Senator Saulsbury of Delaware: "I am satisfied that President Wilson will provide the protection due American citizens on the high seas and accomplish the reparation demanded without war."

Senator Overman of North Carolina: "I believe the note timely and the more emphatically it is supported the better it will be. If anyone can steer us safely through this diplomatic situation I believe it is President Wilson."

NEW YORK, May 14.—A message to President Wilson endorsing the position taken in the note sent to Germany was voted tonight by an assemblage of several hundred persons attending a dinner for Methodist men given by the Laymen's mission movement. William Howard Taft was among those who voted for the adoption of the message and delivered an address in which he strongly praised the spirit in which the note was drafted and the manner of its phrasing. The message sent to President Wilson expressed full approval of the note in which he declared the case of the United States was stated "with admirable clearness, moderation, accuracy and justice." The president was assured of "cordial sympathy and support."

Former President Taft in his commendation of the note said:

"Admirable in tone, moderate in the judicial spirit that runs through the entire communication, dignified in the level the writer takes with respect to international obligations, accurate in its statement of international law he puts the case of the United States in a way that may well call forth our earnest concurrence and confirmation."

BLOOMINGTON TO GIVE UP FRANCHISE.

Bloomington, Ill., May 14.—At a meeting of the directors of the Bloomington Three Eye Baseball team today it was decided to give up the franchise on account of the poor showing of the team. The present directors will take care of the salaries and expenses until the team returns from the present trip. Unless others here decided to take it over, the team will then be turned over to President Terney to take such action as he sees fit.

BELIEVE GERMANY WILL NOT REVERSE BLOCKADE

LONDON OFFICIALS THINK U. S. WILL BE COMPELLED TO SEVER RELATIONS

Hope is Everywhere Expressed that United States Will not be Drawn Into War—Momentous Battles in Progress on Both Fronts.

London, May 14.—(11 p. m.)—The American note to Germany and the new turn which the Italian situation has taken by reason of the resignation of Premier Salandra and cabinet are the features of today's war news.

Meets With Approval. The firm attitude which the American government has taken with regard to Germany's submarine action against her ships and citizens meets with general approval here and the question now is not "what the United States will do," but "what will Germany's answer be?"

It is believed in high official circles here that Germany will not agree to reverse her submarine blockade policy and the conclusion is drawn that the United States will be compelled to sever diplomatic relations with her. The hope is everywhere expressed that the United States will not be drawn into war as it is considered by observers of the situation that she is of greater assistance to the allies as a neutral than she would be as a belligerent.

Meanwhile the belligerents on both the east and west battle fronts are engaged in most momentous battles. The French who already have gained possession of what was thought to be impregnable German positions to the north of Arras are reported to be continuing their victorious advance, while the British are asserted to be holding a large force of Germans in their front and repulsing all German attempts to reach Ypres, which has proved the graveyard of so many thousands of men since the opposing lines were established there last autumn. The Germans report to have made a slight advance, but with the battle ebbing and flowing this is not considered serious in military circles here.

Belgians Repulse Attempt.

Along toward the coast, the Belgian army has repulsed an attempt of the Germans to regain the bridgehead, which the forces of King Albert established on the right bank of the Yser canal, while down in the Westhoek another French army is pushing its offensive and claims to have gained possession of the whole of the forest of LePretre, which would be a step nearer in the allies' aim to force the Germans to evacuate St. Mihiel.

The Austro-Germans, after their lightning-like rush through western Galicia, have now reached a line running due north and south to the west of Przemyel, while the other armies, emerging from the Carpathians are pressing the Russian flank. Even up in Poland it is asserted that the victory of the Teutonic allies in the south has had the effect of forcing the Russians to fall back.

Takes Situation Calmly.

Petrograd, however, continues to take the situation calmly, and although admitting that the Russian army has been forced back by overwhelming numbers and has lost heavily in the retreat, says the Russians are now concentrating on a new line and preparing for another big battle.

Until this battle is decided, the British military critics are withholding their comment. It is pointed out by some of them, however, that more than once the Russians have been driven back but that they always recovered and made the victors regret their penetration into Russian territory. Down in southeastern Galicia and in Bukovina, according to Russian accounts, the Austrian army which here has not the assistance of the Germans, is in full retreat and is being harried by Russian cavalry. The Russians claim to have obtained the advantage over the German raiders in the Baltic province of Courland and to have taken a thousand prisoners near Shavli.

There are no official reports from the Dardanelles, but unofficial news is to the effect that the allies are slowly advancing, despite the obstinate resistance of the Turks, against the heights commanding Kithia, on the one hand, and Kilid Bahr and Maldoz, on the other.

WALSH LEAVES FOR CHICAGO.

Los Angeles, May 14.—Ed Walsh, the Chicago American League pitcher whose training season was interrupted by a severe case of grippe, left today for Chicago. To friends who accompanied him to the train, Walsh said he was "feeling great" and needed only a little more strength to resume pitching in his best form.

WILSON LEAVES FOR NEW YORK

Washington, May 14.—President Wilson left Washington at ten o'clock tonight on board the naval yacht Mayflower for New York, where he will review the Atlantic fleet next week. Cruising leisurely, the yacht will pass out of the Virginia capes about noon tomorrow and reach New York early Monday morning. Returning, she will sail for Washington Tuesday night and arrive here Thursday morning.

War News Summarized

The note sent by the United States to Germany and the crisis in Italy, where the country is awaiting the decision of the government as to whether Italy shall participate in the war, are the dominant features of the latest war news. The American note has been delayed in transmission and has not yet reached Berlin. It is expected that it will be presented to the German authorities some time Saturday.

As regards the Italian situation King Victor Emmanuel has declined to accept the resignation of Premier Salandra and his cabinet. It is stated that Salandra and foreign Minister Sonnino will remain in power. This has created an excellent impression among that portion of the people who favor Italy entering the war. Riottous demonstration in Rome resulted in the entire garrison being called out to maintain order. A number of German shops were attacked by mobs. A crowd of demonstrators was forcibly prevented from entering the chamber of deputies and processions headed for the king's palace to express their loyalty and their sentiments in favor of Italy entering the war were stopped by troops.

Desperate fighting is going on in both the eastern and western theaters of the war. The French report considerable gains along the western line, while the Austro-Germans are said by Berlin and Vienna to be continuing their successes in the Carpathians and Galicia. Further south the Russians aver that they have captured a strongly fortified position 94 miles in length, extending from the Bistritza river to the Roumanian frontier.

An official report by the German admiralty asserts that after the detonation of the torpedo which struck the steamer Lusitania, "a further explosion of extremely strong effect" occurred. This second explosion it is asserted, must be traced back to the "ignition of quantities of ammunition inside the ship."

RYAN BRINGS FRIDAY'S HOUSE SESSION TO AN UNTIMELY CLOSE

Finding It Impossible to Lift His Bill to Third Reading Representative Raises Question of "No Quorum."

Springfield, Ill., May 14.—Because of objections to the advancement of his bill prohibiting the issuance of labor injunctions except in cases where necessary to prevent irreparable loss or damage to property, Rep. F. J. Ryan brought today's House session to an untimely close, finding it impossible to lift his bill to third reading, Ryan raised the question of "no quorum."

"We assembled here on Friday morning less than a quorum of us, for the purpose of advancing bills," he said. "Under the circumstances we ought to be courteous to each other, but there is no disposition to do so."

Reps. Ellis and Pierson objected when Ryan sought to call up his bill (H. B. 195). Ryan raised the question of no quorum, but after an appeal from other members withdrew it, permitting the advancement of bills on first reading. After thirty bills were sent to second reading, the House returned to second reading. Two more bills were advanced when Ryan again raised the question of no quorum, ending the session.

At 11:15 a. m., the House adjourned until 5:30 next Monday afternoon.

U. S. ASKED TO PROTECT CHRISTIANS IN ARMENIA

WASHINGTON, May 14.—Replies were being prepared today at the state department to a flood of communications from various parts of the country urging that steps be taken to protect native Christians in Armenia and in regions around Turkish control. Assurance will be given that the department is doing all it can in its power to aid Americans reported to have been attacked.

No recent report from Ambassador Morgenthau, who was directed recently to take the matter up with the Turkish government has been received. It was on his request, however, that Turkish regular troops were sent to Urumiah, Persia, to keep order. Officials assume that the Ottoman government will be equally ready to afford protection in other quarters where outbreaks are reported. It was pointed out today that the feud between the native Christians in Persia and Armenians and the Kurds had endured for centuries and the present disturbed situation created by the European war was almost certain to be reflected in new outbreaks. The state department has not been advised officially of the extent of the disorders complained of.

BARNES ON WITNESS STAND TWO HOURS

GIVEN VIGOROUS CROSS EXAMINATION IN LIBEL SUIT

Questioned About Meetings With Roosevelt, Editorials in Albany Journal, Senatorial Deadlock in Interests in Printing Business.

Syracuse, N. Y., May 14.—William Barnes spent two hours under vigorous cross examination in the supreme court here this afternoon in his libel suit against Theodore Roosevelt.

He was questioned about his meetings with Colonel Roosevelt while the latter was governor of New York; about editorials that appeared in the Albany Evening Journal; about his activities during the legislative deadlock over the selection of a United States senator to succeed Chauncey M. Depew and about his interest in the printing business in Albany. He told how he happened to discuss political organization with Colonel Roosevelt, and of "listening" while the colonel talked about many things, including Senator Platt and appointments. Mr. Barnes will resume the stand on Monday for further questioning. The former chairman of the Republican state committee concluded his direct examination during the forenoon by defending his organization problems, denying the truth of portions of the testimony of the defendant and his witnesses, loyal with France, of Brooklyn, and in contradicting William Loeb. He denied that he had told Mr. France he could vote the "riff raff" of the Democratic party in the Republican primaries and so disgust the voters that they would demand a repeal of the law.

Met Murphy Only Once.

He swore he did not meet Mr. Loeb in New York during the senatorial deadlock of 1911 and tell him that he could do nothing at that time to end it. He swore he had never met or seen Mr. Murphy more than once in his life. Many of the questions he answered on direct examination, were designed, his counsel said to indicate the "dominance of the defendant in the Republican party."

Mr. Barnes emphatically denied that he had ever tried to influence the votes of legislators. He did say he was subjected to constant solicitation on the senatorial question, however.

During his four hours on the witness stand, he maintained his customary even tone of voice, but once he showed impatience when John M. Bowers, chief counsel for Colonel Roosevelt, closely questioned him about the times he saw and talked with the defendant when the colonel was governor. Colonel Roosevelt watched Mr. Barnes all day, apparently so interested that he neglected to look over mail delivered to him. The colonel announced that he intended to catch a late train for New York and would return to Syracuse Sunday night.

TWENTY-EIGHT BODIES RECOVERED YESTERDAY

More Victims of Lusitania Disaster Brought to Queenstown—Several Americans Among List.

Queenstown, May 14.—(11:30 p. m.)—The bodies of twenty-eight victims of the Lusitania disaster reached here tonight. A British torpedo boat unexpectedly put into Queenstown bringing twelve, who had been picked up between fifteen and twenty miles southwest of Fastnet—those of seven men, four women and one boy.

The body of A. L. Hopkins, president of the Newport News Shipbuilding company was quickly identified, as were those of one of the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Crompton of Philadelphia; Mrs. William Critchton of New York; Surgeon J. F. McDermott of the Lusitania and George Fibergien a Greek saloon passenger. Three of the bodies appear to be those of members of the crew of the Lusitania. The tug Stormcock followed the torpedo boat in, bringing sixteen more bodies, eleven men, four women and one boy. Among the first of these to be identified were Robert Edward Dearbergh of 117 West 58th street, New York and G. L. P. Vernon, an oil man of London and New York.

KING REFUSES TO ACCEPT RESIGNATION

Action of Monarch Creates Favorable Impression Throughout Rome

PEOPLE SEEM SATISFIED

News that Salandra and Sonnino Will Remain in Power Spreads Like Wildfire

PLANNED BIG DEMONSTRATION

BULLETIN.

ROME, May 14.—(9:12 p. m.)—via Paris, May 15.—(6:20 a. m.)—Premier Salandra has insisted upon his resignation being accepted and King Victor Emmanuel has entrusted Giuseppe Marcora, president of the chamber of deputies with the task of forming a new cabinet.

After accepting the King's commission Signor Marcora had conferences with Premier Salandra, former premier Giolitti and President of the senate Manfredi.

If he succeeds in his purpose the Marcora cabinet will contain representatives of all the opposing parties.

ROME, May 14.—(6:10 p. m.)—via Paris, May 15.—(1:30 a. m.)—News that King Victor Emmanuel will not accept Premier Salandra's resignation and that Salandra and Baron Sonnino, the foreign minister will remain in power is spreading like wildfire throughout Rome and creating an excellent impression.

People Seem Satisfied.

All the people seem satisfied at so quick a solution of the crisis, it being believed that otherwise serious trouble was inevitable. It was asserted that the population had determined tonight would not pass without such a demonstration of violence as would render the will of the people supreme. The whole city was in a state of "bullition." The shops were closed, flags were hoisted at halfmast as a sign of protest against the government's action and the theaters had been requested to suspend their performances, except the Constanzi theater, where a play was given in honor of Gabriele D'Annunzio. The poet was present and made an address of anti-Austrian character. The entire garrison had been brought out to protect the most threatened points in the city such as the streets where the Austrian and German embassies and consulates are situated and the Villa Maletta, the home of former Premier Giolitti. The city was divided into four military zones and the keeping of order was entrusted to the military authorities.

Riotous Crowd Invades Piazza.

A riotous crowd during the day invaded the Piazza Montecitorio, in which the chamber of deputies is located, and smashed windows and doors and destroyed everything it came across. The rioters were about to enter the Great Hall of Sitings, when troops intervened. A few of the demonstrators were wounded.

Members of the chamber of deputies who are followers of Signor Giolitti made their escape from the building some of them leaving their hats behind. A venerable Garibaldian veteran harangued the crowd declaring that Italy must go to war or the people would bring about a revolution.

During the day a circular was distributed asking the people to form in procession and proceed to Villa Ada, the residence of King Victor Emmanuel and demonstrate their loyalty to the king, but also express their favor of Italy joining the war.

Close All German Shops.

These circulars caused the forming of processions of thousands of people who with flags and shouting and enthusiastically marched toward the Villa Ada. On the way the demonstrators smashed all windows and destroyed the signs of German shops. One of the most prominent German business houses attacked was that of Loescher, the book seller. The police, carabinieri, bersaglieri and infantry and even cavalrymen and artillerymen charged the procession and closed the streets leading to the Villa Ada. The mob, however, proceeded to force the closing of all German shops plying them with signs reading "Closed as a national protest."

It is asserted that Signor Giolitti, when he was received by King Victor Emmanuel this morning, expressed the opinion to the king that Signor Salandra's government not having been overthrown by Parliament Salandra must remain in power or be entrusted with the task of forming a new cabinet. Signor Salandra, Signor Marcora, president of the Chamber of Deputies, Signor Manfredi, president of the senate and other men his politics were in conference with the king during the day.

No matter whether one's sympathy be with Germany or the allies in the present conflict, there can be nothing but condemnation for the Englishmen who during recent days have sought to show their spirit of patriotism by wrecking German shops and houses in England. It is no doubt true that the men who have been guilty of those outrages when called upon for actual service for their country will be "weighed and found wanting."

The Chicago Tribune very aptly suggests that a good method to be followed with reference to war talk and especially in the case of jugo orators and patriots is for each man to settle the war question for himself by asking and answering a question—"If there should be war do I want to go?" There is no use in any citizen raging around about the necessity for war and the upholding of the honor of the United States if he has in mind all the time that someone else is to do the fighting. As the Tribune suggests, should there be war there would be only one right way to conduct it, and that is aggressively. So if it is running in your mind that the United States should hurry and with force of arms seek to settle any differences which may have arisen, ask yourself if you want to be one of those to enlist to go to a foreign country and fight in the trenches.

A Historical Building.

At the meeting of the State Historical Society which closed Friday evening in Springfield report was made regarding the need of a building to house the society and its records. These evidences of the early history of Illinois are priceless, and will grow in value as time goes by.

For several years, in part in view of the approaching centennial in 1918 of Illinois as a state, efforts have been made to have a proper building arranged for through legislation, of fire proof construction to keep the history and memorials of the past of our state.

Perhaps some friends of the measure have asked too much but the present legislature ought not to adjourn without passing a suitably guarded appropriation for a sufficient building for historical purposes, and this without regard to what other departments of the state government may, or may not want. A proper, ample and separate building should be authorized at once; and on an economical basis.

An Army of Defense.

Many Americans will be interested in the formation of The National Security League, an organization which has for its object "preparation against war", not "preparation for war".

From the National headquarters of the National Defense League at 31 Pine street, New York City, a call has been sent out for the enrollment of the first American Army of one million volunteer workers, which will shortly be called upon to give united support to the following program: (1) legislation correcting wasteful methods of military appropriations and disbursements. (2) The adoption of a definite military policy. (3) A stronger, better-balanced navy. (4) An effective mobile regular army. (5) Better government support for the National Guard. (6) The creation of an organized reserve for each branch of our military service.

The organization includes among its members such men as the following: Joseph H. Choate, former ambassador to England, honorary president; Alton B. Parker, honorary vice-president; former Secretary of War, Henry L. Stimson, chairman of the army committee; J. Bernard Walker, chairman of the naval committee; Benjamin F. Tracy, former secretary of the navy; and Colonel William C. Church, editor of the Army and Navy Journal.

Stock Market and War Rumors.
It seems that the sinking of the Lusitania and the governmental crisis resulting therefrom has not had a marked effect upon the stock market. This is true at least of those stocks which are considered as of the staple type. Under some conditions such a happening would have been apt to be reflected at once in a material way in the stock market, but the markets have been going through such a severe period of depression that it would take something more serious than even recent happenings to make any material change. Financial papers are of the opinion, too, that even in the event of a declaration of war following the failure of all efforts to secure a disavowal of past acts and a promise of future good conduct from Germany, that there would not be a very serious lowering of stock prices—that is again referring to the staple ones.

It is pointed out that even in the faraway possibility of a war with Germany that it would be conducted at such a long distance that industrially there would be very little interference here at home. It is quoted that even in the days of the rebellion that business in the north continued almost in a normal state so far as production was concerned. While some of those who have been considering the matter believe that there would be little change noted in stocks, they are of the opinion that there would be a rising market so far as grain and live stock are concerned.

John C. Andras refused not long ago an offer of $1.56 a bushel for the wheat he has stored at his great farm near Manchester. Mr. Andras has expressed the belief that wheat will eventually reach the $2 mark and he is proportionately sanguine about the price of corn. At any rate he is willing to back up his judgment with the large supply that he has on hand, which is said to total 33,000 bushels. While the grain markets in recent days have been showing a decline rather than an upward tendency, the suppressed talk of the possibility of the United States getting into the European trouble, and the continued reports that one hears about damage from chinch bugs and Hessian fly, give some indication that there is a possibility that Mr. Andras' vision may be proven correct. If this does happen, it will not be the first time, for as a rule in the past his estimate of market conditions has been shown based upon sound reasoning and a knowledge of supply and demand as well as crop conditions.

WOMEN IN THE NEWS.

Pittsburgh—A big event in the women's college world this week is the inauguration of a new president of Pennsylvania College for Women, which took place yesterday and today. Dr. John C. Acheson, recently head of the Kentucky college for women will be inducted into office tomorrow, in the presence of notable women and men educators. Among the speakers will be Miss Mary Bidwell Breed, dean of Margaret Morrison Carnegie school for women, and Miss Mary Augusta Jordan, head of the department of English at Smith college. Others who will be here include Dean Mary A. Sawyer of Western College for Women and President Anna J. McKeag of Wilson College.

New York—That the present system of organizing women workers, which was copied from the men's unions, is not adequate to protect the working girl and is not based on the right working basis to gain the co-operation of capital with labor, is the claim of Miss Anne Morgan, Miss Morgan, who has done notable work for women in this section of the country, and who has often proven her genuine love for working women, says: "I am in favor of organization. But the present working out of trade unionism is bad for all concerned. Every question is reduced to one of offensive and defensive. Instead of warfare, there should be co-operation. Women today have the opportunity to bring a new interpretation into relations of labor and capital. Salary and hours are not the true consideration. It is the standardizing of work. What we want is achievement. It is through those at the top that we can help those at the bottom."

London—A meeting of society women took place here, to organize a campaign against the employment of German chefs and waiters. Lady Glauusk is at the head of the movement, and she has secured as speakers Lord Charles Beresford and others. It will be the aim of the Anti-German league, organized today, to maintain a training school for English help, and to restrict the possibilities of the German spy system in English homes and restaurants. Assisting Lady Glauusk are the Countess of Leicester, Lady Wenlock, Lady Mansfield Clarke, Lady Owen Phillips, and other noted women.

St. Louis—Mrs. Kitty Solomon one of the few lady members of the organization of American heroes known as the National Brotherhood Welfare Association, is planning to take a canoe trip from St. Paul to New Orleans on the Mississippi river, and to write a book on her experiences. The trip down the river would not call for much work, and she feels she would be well received along the river during her trip.

New York—Audrey Munson, a model for artists, sculptors and illustrators, who has become known as "Exposition Girl" because she posed for many figures for the San Francisco Exposition, has filed suit here against Keith's theatres, claiming they wrongfully used her name and poses in advertising her as an attraction. She claims she never intended to appear at the theatres, although they billed her. In explaining her case, she alluded to "the exceptional character of her form and features" and the prominence of the artists for whom she has posed.

Poughkeepsie, N. Y.—Vassar College is sending out this week its bids to representatives of American colleges to the fiftieth anniversary celebration which will take place here in October. Foreign universities, famous societies and women's organizations will also be invited to send representatives.

Philadelphia—Billiards as a sport for women is fast coming to the front here, particularly since Miss Clara C. Haywood defeated last week Harry Cline, the former champion of the world. Mrs. Richard Harding Davis was an adept with the cue, and Ethel Barrymore once achieved success as a billiardist. The performance of Miss Haywood has eclipsed anything yet done by society girls in billiards, and others are training to take her laurels.

DRAMA LEAGUE PLAY IS SUCCESS OF HIGH ORDER

SIX HUNDRED SEE PERFORMANCE OF COMEDY, "DON."

Presentation of Difficult Comedy of Manners by Amateur Department of League Sets High Standard for Non-Professional Drama in Jacksonville.

In the playing of "Don," a delightful but serious three-act comedy, the amateur department of the Drama League has set a new standard of non-professional performance in Jacksonville. Six hundred people, members and guests of the league, witnessed the production Friday night at the Illinois School for the Deaf, and from each of these there was a note of well-directed praise. This production of Besier was artistically staged and given in tasteful costume. Time for preparation was all to short and only the experience and easy ability of those who took part brought the play to such a high pitch of merit.

The entire cast was adequate to the difficult requirements of the play, for it is to be classed with that rare form of drama, the comedy of manners. The play was not only charming in itself, with its clearly drawn characters, its clever dialogue and its light but sure satire, but was also exceedingly well done. The cast was so well balanced and the acting so in keeping with the spirit of the play that the mention of individuals becomes a somewhat difficult task. Each seemed to have caught the spirit of the character, for the time assumed. Mr. Bassett was very successful in the role of the dignified and kindly Canon. The difficult character of Mrs. Sinclair was splendidly and effectively carried by Miss Cappa. Mr. Rowan's impersonation of the irascible old gentleman, was altogether delightful and afforded the audience much amusement. Mr. Merrill portrayed with much charm the character of the ingenious and delightful Don. Miss Lane as Anne was the charming and lovable English girl. Mr. Bells' impersonation of the street preacher was well conceived and finely shaded. Miss Wylder played with much skill the amusing role of Mrs. Bonington. Miss Barnes acting in the role of Mrs. Thompson was simple, sincere and most appealing. Miss Wadsworth was very good in the role of Fannie.

It is to be hoped that the Drama League will make good its promise, given by Mrs. F. J. Heintz, in a speech of welcome preceding the play, to present from time to time, through its amateur department, some of the modern plays which cannot often be seen upon the stage.

Members of the Jacksonville center feel especially grateful to Mr. Gillett, superintendent of the school for the deaf, for his kindness in furnishing place for the performance and for his constant interest in preparation for the play. The music by the Conservatory orchestra was adapted with rare skill to the needs of the work and the musicians too have shown commendable interest. Thanks is due also the league members who served as ushers, William E. Krich, Edmund Munger, Frank J. Heintz, Morrison Worthington and F. J. Waddell. Miss Stella Cole was coach and trainer and to her unremitting work was success in large measure due.

"Don" a comedy in three acts by the young English playwright, Rudolph Besier is a serious production and as a comedy of manners is one of the best in point of construction and brilliant dialogue of recent years. Each character is distinctly individual and has personality of rare charm.

Canon and Mrs. Bonington are expecting the arrival of their son, Stephen, nicknamed "Don" from "Don Quixote," a man of genius and as it turns out an unconventional young man, who follows the dictates of a kind heart rather than prescribed social convention. Out of his ingenuousness the situation of the play arises. He is bringing with him as a guest of his parents, General and Mrs. Sinclair who have lived much in India, and their daughter, Anne, his fiancée. At the hour of their expected arrival the sinclair comes, but without Don. He presently puts in his appearance bringing with him, ill and hair unconscious, a former maid of his mother, Elizabeth Thompson, whom he has found in London and taken away from her cruel husband. His surprise and grief at finding himself and his action completely misunderstood by his father and mother and regarded as most suspicious by Gen. and Mrs. Sinclair and his explanation of his own point of view occupy the entire second act. The situation is further complicated by the arrival of Mr. Thompson, a hardened religious fanatic who comes to kill Don and possibly Elizabeth also. Elizabeth Thompson's narration of the whole story in the third act which brings new light makes the general reconciliation possible. The theme may be found in two speeches of Stephen's "I have broken what my father called the law of God to save a human soul," and Thompson says to him in closing "You're a good man Mr. Stephen Bonington. I've dealt hardly by my wife but you've dealt with her as the master would have done."

The cast follows:
Canon Bonington—Vance Bassett.
Gen. Sinclair—Richard Rowe.
Stephen Bonington—Clyde Merrill.
Albert Thompson—Glean Bell.
Mrs. Bonington—Ethel Wylder.
Mrs. Sinclair—Eleanor Cappa.
Ann Sinclair—Clara Lane.
Elizabeth Thompson—Elsie Barnes.
Fanny—Mary Wadsworth.

Mrs. Millie Glasner, pastry cook at the Peacock Inn, is at Passavant hospital recovering from injuries incurred Friday morning when she fell down the steps leading from the kitchen to the cellar below. HEALTH ORDINANCE PLANS GIVEN CONSIDERATION

Committee Held Conference Friday Night—Sub-Committee Named to Draft Measure.

The committee recently appointed to outline a public health ordinance for presentation to the city council held a meeting Friday night at the Chamber of Commerce rooms. John J. Reeve presided as chairman and Carl Weber served as secretary. Members of the committee included Dr. J. R. Harker, Dr. Josephine Milligan, Dr. George Stacy, Dr. A. M. King, Dr. E. L. Crouch, Dr. Edward Bowe, Mrs. H. M. Havenhill, Mrs. J. H. Danskin, Mayor H. J. Rodgers, Dr. C. H. Rammelkamp, J. Edgar Martin and L. O. Vaughn.

After a discussion in a general way of the work the committee is expected to perform it was determined to appoint a sub-committee of seven members to whom has been delegated the task of outlining an ordinance and then presenting it to the whole committee for discussion and action. The committee named includes Dr. E. L. Crouch, Dr. A. M. King, Dr. Edward Bowe, Dr. Josephine Milligan, Dr. George Stacy, L. O. Vaughn and Mrs. A. L. Adams. As a committee on publicity the chair appointed Mrs. J. H. Danskin and Mrs. A. L. Adams.

Task Not Easy.
The committee as a whole recognizes that it is no simple task to prepare an ordinance which will cover all the needs in the health department work of the city as there have been so many advances made in such work during recent years. Questions of sanitation and health have so much to do with the general welfare of the public that many physicians devote themselves wholly to investigation along those lines. Health inspection of school children, open air schools, sources of water supply, problems of sewage disposal, the care of contagious diseases, are only a few of the questions which are now handled by the health department of the up-to-date and well governed city.

One of the physicians recalled the awakening there was in this city a few years ago in public health matters as the result of twelve deaths among children from measles. At that time the physicians in the city drafted a new health ordinance which it was believed would greatly improve local conditions but like some other ordinances subsequently prepared it failed of passage in the city council. Speaking of local conditions, one of the committee present last night referred to the very small amount appropriated each year for public health work, the figures indicating that the total sum is about two and a half cents per capita while the reports also show that the amounts appropriated for the care of our cemeteries are equal to sixty cents per capita.

The general feeling of the committee was that the ordinance to be taken as a basis of a report to be formulated should be drafted in large measure by physicians as they are practically the only persons who have made an extended study of sanitation and health problems.

Model Ordinances.
The health department in Washington has published many volumes of reports concerning work of this kind and model ordinances have been prepared which with variations according to some local conditions will be suitable for the average American city. The state health department has also prepared some helpful literature along these same lines and in their work the local committee will give some attention to this suggestive matter.

A public health ordinance must necessarily cover so many subjects that it will be lengthy but for that reason any such ordinance need not be difficult of interpretation. To be effective in its working an ordinance must not only make provision for the proper conduct of health department work but must also for the authority to carry these provisions into effect.

Another matter which must be given consideration in a local health ordinance is the question of finances. Not a very large sum can be devoted to the work of the department as the city is already expending more money than the taxes or special receipts justify.

Mayor Rodgers was one of those who discussed the question last night and said there was one provision that he had in mind which should certainly be included, that is with reference to the distribution of samples of patent medicines. The health ordinance of some cities provide that this shall be done only after a license fee has been paid to the city but the mayor was of the opinion that the practice should not be permitted under any consideration. He believes that the dangers to children resulting from the indiscriminate distribution of patent medicine samples are such that medical firms should be required to use the mails for their distributive advertising work.

In the general discussion of the question there was some sentiment of two sub-committees one to prepare a health ordinance proper, providing for the creation of a city health department and the other to prepare an ordinance dealing more particularly with medical inspection of children and other school problems. It developed however that a majority of the committee believed that all of the work mentioned properly belongs under the city health department and so it was determined that the whole work should be performed by one committee composed largely of physicians who will work in connection with a lawyer member and one other member who has made quite an extensive study of public health and sanitation problems.

WORLD COURT CONGRESS CONVENTION CLOSES

DELEGATES BELIEVE MOVE TOWARD PEACE MUST BE SUCCESSFUL

John Hays Hammond Declares Assurances Have Come From all Sides That Support of Plan is Sure to Enure When War is Ended.

Cleveland, O., May 14.—The world court congress held its concluding session here tonight with its delegates expressing the opinion that the latest movement toward world peace, as expressed in the congress' idea of an international court of justice, has been launched toward a conclusion that is bound to be successful.

Support Sure to Enure. "There are many who are inclined to believe the movement visionary," said John Hays Hammond, chairman. "These do not comprehend the information at the disposal of the men fostering the idea of a world court which will have a 'punch' because it will make arbitration obligatory and not optional."

"Assurances have come from all sides, including representative men of the nations now at war, that support of the plan for a world court is sure to enure, once the carnage in Europe has ended. These assurances are authoritative. While the congress has been in session we have received pledges of intended support to our plan from individuals and organizations all over the country. It is certain that public opinion in the United States will crystallize speedily into a determination that will make this country a leading signatory to a league of nations."

Outlines Future Plans. The future plans of the congress were outlined in an address late this afternoon by Prof. Jeremiah W. Jenks. They include:

The winning over of public opinion in this country and abroad through the press and through the holding of conventions and conferences. The formation of a committee to secure action pledging this country to the plan for a world court of justice.

The outlining of a formal plan for a world's court by a commission selected from the committee of one hundred of the congress.

A resolution, the only one presented to the congress, was adopted at tonight's session, continuing the committee of one hundred, which launched the present congress with power to act in all future matters.

Desire Persistent Effort. "It is the desire of this congress that persistent effort shall be made to realize the project of a world court," said the resolution, "for it is clear to the world that existing institutions for the prevention of war need strengthening and enlarging."

"The committee of one hundred will at once start work to secure action by our government in the matter," said Mr. Hammond at the conclusion of the congress. "We hope to enlist the government to the extent that it will make the first advance looking forward to an agreement among nations."

John Mitchell and General Ballington Booth were to have been speakers at tonight's session but wired they would be unable to attend. Mr. Mitchell, because of pressing business and General Booth because of sickness in his family.

EUROPEAN WAR NOTES

Rome, via Paris, May 14.—(6:50 p. m.)—News received here today from Tripoli says that during the afternoon of May 12th an Italian column composed of infantry and cavalry was attacked by rebels in the neighborhood of Misurata. The attack was repulsed.

The Italian losses are given as twelve killed including three officers and twenty-nine men wounded.

Vienna, via London, May 14.—(10:40 p. m.)—The following official war office statement was given out here tonight.

"The retreat of the enemy in Russian Poland continues influencing also the sectors on the former Pilica front."

"From the east of Piotrkow to the upper Vistula the retreating enemy is being pursued by the Teutonic allies under Generals Von Woyrich and Dankl. The allied troops have gained a footing in the hilly district northeast of Kielce."

"In mid-Galicia the Russians are retreating across the San before the army of Archduke Jos. Ferdinand. From the district of Dobromil, Stry and Sambor the enemy is retreating in a northeastern direction before the vanguards of the army under Generals Borovich and Vor Boehm-Ermolli. Our troops have reached the heights southwest of Dobromil, Stry and Sambor. Allied troops under General Linsingen are advancing across Turka and Skole and joining the general advance."

"The battle in south Galicia continues. Strong Russian forces have advanced across Oberlyn to the north of Sniatyn and Mahala."

Petrograd, via London, May 14.—(9:55 p. m.)—The following official communication was issued this evening:

"In the region of Shavil, the fighting is developing under conditions favorable to us. Yesterday we took more than one thousand German prisoners and captured nine machine guns."

"In western Galicia the intensity of the fighting lessened on May 10. Our troops are concentrating gradually on the line of the river San, with the object of occupying a shorter front."

"The Austrian army evacuated on the eleventh a strongly fortified position extending from the Bistriza river to the Roumanian frontier, in length 140 versts (about 940 miles) and fell back precipitately on the twelfth beyond the river Pruth."

"The enemy's cavalry, which was sacrificed in repeated charges to protect the general retreat, was dispersed by our fire."

"Our cavalry divisions broke through at various points, and by successful charges, threw the enemy's columns, which were on the march, into disorder."

"Our vigorous pursuit of the enemy continues under conditions particularly favorable to us. The great number of prisoners we have already taken is being rapidly increased."

Paris, May 14.—(10:40 p. m.)—The official communication of the war office made public tonight says:

"To the north of Arras, the condition of the ground has rendered operations difficult. Our offensive has, however, been continued."

"At the southeast of Angres, we have attacked from both sides of the road of Aix-Houettes-Souchez and taken to the north of this road a strong German trench extending on a front of one kilometer (about two-thirds of a mile); to the south of the road a forest which had been organized for defense and behind this forest, a trench of the second line."

"We have found on the ground in this vicinity 400 Germans who were killed."

"More to the south, we have continued the clearing of the slopes east and south of Notre Dame de Lorette."

"We have taken additional houses at Neuville St. Vaast."

"According to the testimony of prisoners, our artillery has inflicted heavy losses on the enemy."

"The number of officers made prisoners since Sunday is about one hundred. The number of guns captured are twenty, including eight heavy guns. In addition we have taken one hundred machine guns and bomb throwers."

"The Germans made an attack upon us this morning at the wood of Ailly. They obtained a momentary footing on our first line but were forced back by a counter attack. We captured about one hundred prisoners. They had been quiet on the other parts of the front."

JAILED JUDGE ON IMPEACHMENT CHARGES.

Another Case Against Man Now Serving Sentence in Federal Prison.

Indianapolis, Ind., May 14.—The impeachment proceedings brought in the Indiana Supreme Court against Judge Eli H. Redman, of the Vigo county circuit court, who is now a federal prisoner at Leavenworth for election fraud in connection with the famous Terre Haute case, was heard today. Mayor Don M. Roberts of Terre Haute, the ringleader in the frauds, has already been impeached.

A summons for Judge Redman was left at the "usual place of residence" of the judge at Terre Haute, there being no provision for serving a summons on him in the federal prison. A suit is pending at Rockville, Ind. to contest the election of Judge Redman, and should he be ousted from office by the supreme court, Governor Ralston will appoint a successor, to serve until the Rockville suit is determined.

Judge Redman was elected by a majority of ten votes last November over Charles Pulliam, the Republican candidate, for judge of the circuit court. A considerable portion of the federal indictment was devoted to the alleged frauds practiced in the Taylorville precincts of Terre Haute. These precincts gave Judge Redman enough votes to win.

The governor charged Redman with sending his son, Hilton Redman, a young lawyer, also convicted, to see that the regular election board of the Taylorville precincts was kept from serving. It was also charged that Judge Redman promised Chas. Smiley that if he would vote all the names registered in a certain precinct that he would appoint him bailiff of the court.

One of the most sensational features of the recent trial centered in the slush fund raised by assessing saloon keepers, gamblers and inhabitants of the underworld by promising them immunity from punishment when they violated the law.

Judge Redman took the witness stand last March during the famous trial, and denied every item of evidence produced by the government. He maintained his innocence of the charge of complicity in the conspiracy or the frauds as actually committed.

OPPOSITE VIEWS OF HOW LABOR IS TREATED IN COURTS

Counsel for Anti-Boycott Society and Labor Organizer Heard by Industrial Commission.

Washington, May 14.—Opposite views of the treatment of labor in the courts were heard by the industrial relations commission here today from Daniel Davenport, counsel for the American Anti-Boycott association and Anton Johannsen, a California labor organizer.

The former vigorously endorsed the use of the injunction in labor disputes and asserted that organized labor was fully as well treated as organized capital before the law. The labor leader voiced a deep dissatisfaction with justice under which he declared "the rich man goes free and the poor man goes to jail."

Johannsen's testimony followed that of "Mother" Jones, who concluded her testimony early in the day. Reviewing the activities of the International Iron Workers Union which culminated in the trial of the McNamara brothers and other union leaders for the building trades in the strikes of the building trades in Los Angeles and Stockton, Calif., Johannsen told the commission a picturesque story of strike methods and charged that the use of gunnery and thugs by employers was widespread. His testimony was delivered with much emphasis, with considerable gesticulation and some profanity.

Commissioner Weinstein asked Johannsen if he justified the use of violence, especially referring to the dynamiting cases.

"It may be," said the witness, "that the Iron Workers fought back with dynamite. I do not justify the killing of any man. You talk about the 26 lives lost in the Los Angeles Times Building but what of the 300, 400 or 5,000 men killed by the steel trust in the metal trades. I say, put them all in jail."

Johannsen will continue his testimony tomorrow when Clarence Darrow and Walter Drew are also expected to testify.

Henry Scott of the machine shop has recovered from an illness and has been able to go to his home from Passavant hospital.

William Saner, foreman of the blacksmith shop, is suffering with illness but resolutely sticks to his post.

William Boland, boiler maker helper, expects to spend Sunday in St. Louis with his friend, Matt Broderick.

THE BOILED DINNER

How dear to my heart is the luscious boiled dinner, which fond recollection brings back now and then, that balm to the stomach, that forty-time winner—oh, give me an old time boiled dinner again! So often I've sat at the restaurant table, and down through the menu I've hopefully looked, for something to comfort my northeastern gable, for such a boiled dinner as grandmother cooked! The steaming boiled dinner, the noble boiled dinner, the grand old boiled dinner my grandmother cooked. I'm tired of the fodder you're constantly shovin', the things out of box and the things out of can, the do-funnies baked in a gasoline oven, the chafing dish horrors which frighten a man; your cooking school triumphs are weird and unanny. That sort of refreshment too long I have brooked; I long for the skill of my dear sainted granny, I long for the dinner that grandmother cooked! The fragrant boiled dinner, the juicy boiled dinner, the cultured boiled dinner my grandmother cooked.

"MOTHER" JONES RECOUNTS TALES OF MANY INDUSTRIAL WARS

Her Examination as to Cause and Cures for Unrest Which Will be Undertaken Today.

Washington, May 14.—Tales of industrial wars from Pennsylvania to California during the last 35 years were recounted before the federal industrial commission today by Mrs. Mary Jones, the "Mother Jones" of scores of strikes.

"Mother Jones" told the history of her connection with industrial disturbances preliminary to her examination as to cause and cures for unrest which will be undertaken tomorrow.

The commission heard today Prof. Frank Goodnow, president of John Hopkins University and Harry A. Cyphers of South Bethlehem, Pa., on the treatment of labor in the courts and concluded the examination of William D. Haywood of the Industrial Workers of the World.

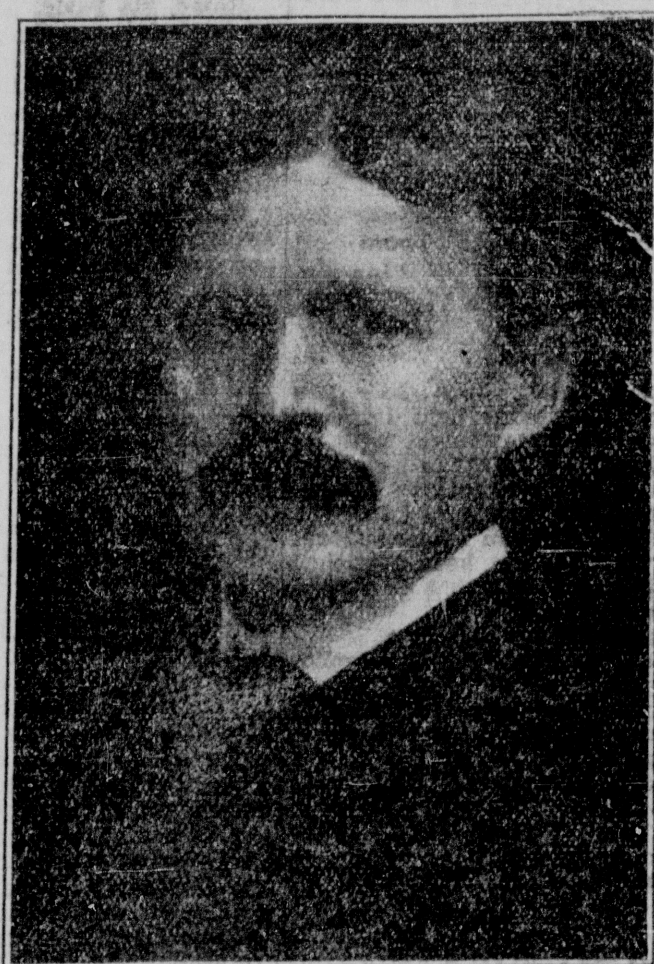

"Mother Jones" related a long story of strikes in Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Maryland and Colorado. She described night marauds with bands of strikers, battles with the militia and of caring for strikers killed and wounded in strike riots. The witness told of being carried out of Colorado by militiamen and of hurrying back on the heels of the escort that took her to the state line. She described the horrors of industrial war and at times tears streamed from her eyes as she told of the treatment of men, women and children.

Chief Davis was informed of the loss and has sent broadcast postals stating that there was stolen a dark brown mare and a road wagon as well as fifteen Plymouth Rock chickens. The thief was seen with the property and is described as a man of medium height, about 32 years old.

FUNERAL NOTICE.

Judge Selden P. Spencer of St. Louis, who will speak here Monday in interest of the Jacksonville Y. M. C. A. was for a number of years a member of the Missouri legislature and since his elevation to the bench has been recognized as a man of sound legal accomplishment and clear judgment. Judge Spencer has long been interested in association work. His theme will be "The Young Man—The Community's Greatest Asset," and he will endeavor to bring forth the possibilities of an up-to-date Young Men's Christian association.

The address will follow a free supper in the Y. M. C. A. headquarters on the north side of the square. Six-thirty is the hour announced. The ladies of Northminster church will serve this first of several luncheons which will be given after the campaign opens. The Rev. F. A. McCarthy will preside and at 7:30 o'clock will introduce the speaker.

Says the "History of the Bench and Bar of Missouri": "The career of Judge Selden P. Spencer of St. Louis is a good illustration of what under our American institutions may be accomplished by the young man of pluck, energy and honorable purpose within a short time. Judge Spencer occupies one of the most honorable positions to which members of his profession may aspire, Judge of the Circuit court of the great metropolis of St. Louis."

TRAFFIC ORDINANCE WILL BE STRICTLY ENFORCED

Commissioner Martin Mentions Failure of Autoists to Stop When Approaching a Street Car at Crossings—Children Often Careless.

J. Edgar Martin, commissioner of health and safety, said yesterday that he is having eight or ten large signs painted which will be placed in conspicuous places at points where the various roads touch the Jacksonville city limits. These signs will give a warning to automobile drivers to slow down. According to traffic ordinance provisions the speed allowable is fifteen miles an hour in the residence district and ten miles an hour in the business district.

The matter of violation of speed law provisions is one which Mr. Martin believes demands early action, and he is now laying his plans to bring to pass the general observance of this law. Mr. Martin believes that there are some provisions in the ordinance which are too stringent, and he will be in favor of making some slight changes and then proceeding with a vigorous enforcement of the ordinance in its amended form. His idea is that the law should be a just one to the public and to the auto drivers, and its provisions should be such that it can be readily enforced for the general good. One continued flagrant violation of the law which the commissioner calls attention to is the failure of automobile drivers to stop when approaching a street car which has stopped or is about to

WORLD'S MARKET NEWS

EXPORT BUSINESS AT STANDSTILL; MARKET SUFFERS SHARP DECLINE

Wheat Turns Decisively Downgrade in Final Hour of Trading—Other Leading Staples Drop.

Chicago, May 14.—Export business apparently at a standstill for the time being on account of uncertainties growing out of the American note to Germany tended to bring about a sharp decline today in the price of wheat. The market closed unsettled at 1 1/2 to 2 1/2c under last night. Other leading staples, too, finished at a net loss—corn 3/4c to 1 1/2c, oats 1/2c to 1 1/4c and provisions 7 1/2 to 10c to 20c. It was not until the final hour of trading that the wheat market turned decisively downgrade. Wide differences of opinion as to crop damage had been largely instrumental up to that time in producing a series of irregular price changes that were hard to classify as although giving the advantage to either the bulls or the bears. Meanwhile doubt as to what contingencies might arise in national relations had a noticeable effect toward restricting the volume of pit transactions. Support was not lacking, however, until the fact became evident that foreign demand had virtually come to a temporary halt. There were no advices of any fresh sales whatever to Europe. Late dispatches in regard to damage to the domestic wheat crop were in the nature of a verdict of not half proved. The Texas official report was said to be the most flattering ever issued as to conditions in that state. On the other hand an early private report from a leading authority said the chance of a bumper crop this year in Kansas was gone. Although corn at first was inclined to hold steady, the market later gave way with wheat. News regarding the progress of planting counted somewhat against the bulls. Absence of important cash sales pushed down oats. Besides field conditions were said to be excellent especially in the southwest.

A Hint for Coming Maternity

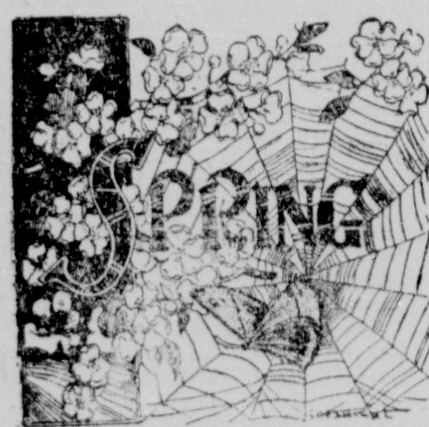

In a little book designed for expectant mothers, every complete instruction is given in the use of "Mother's Friend." This is an external embrocation applied to the abdominal muscles for the purpose of reducing the strain on ligaments, cords and tendons.

In thus bringing relief and avoiding pain, great good is accomplished. It serves to ease the mind, indirectly has a most beneficial effect upon the nervous system and thousands of women have delighted to tell how they were free of nausea, had no morning sickness and went through the ordeal with most remarkable success. "Mother's Friend" has been growing in popular favor for more than forty years. In almost every community are grandmothers who used it themselves, their daughters have used it and they certainly must know what a blessing it is when they recommend it so warmly.

It is certainly a most helpful influence for its effect in avoiding all unnecessary pain, enabling the muscles to expand gently and to relax naturally when baby arrives. Strictly an external application it has no other effect than to ease the muscles, cords, tendons and ligaments involved hence is perfectly safe to use by all women. It is used very successfully to prevent edema of breasts.

"Mother's Friend" is prepared in the laboratory of Bradford Regulator Co., 501 Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga.

It should be remembered that what is said of "Mother's Friend" is the thought expressed by the thousands of women who have successfully used it and recommended it through two generations.

SHERIFF IN GEORGIA SAYS PAYNES IS A DANGEROUS MAN

Prisoner in County Jail is Wanted in Several Places—Had Escaped From Prison at Marietta.

Chief of Police Davis recently received a letter from the sheriff of Cobb county, Georgia, giving some further facts concerning C. D. Paynes, the man under arrest here under the name of Cochran for forging express money orders at the Jacksonville office of the National Express company. The sheriff in his letter says that he considers Paynes a very bad and dangerous man.

Referring to Paynes' record he says: "About Jan. 1, 1913 he stole 20 Southern Express money orders near Rome, Ga., and got about $1,100 on these orders. A few weeks later he was arrested in Florida and it subsequently developed that he was an escaped convict from that state, and he was taken to the state farm near Raiford, Fla. to complete his sentence. March 16 of this year I went to Raiford and took him to the jail at Marietta, Ga. where in company with Jo Hame and G. B. Chappell he escaped April 19. Paynes was wanted at Cedar town, Ga. to answer a burglary charge; at Durham, N. C. for forgery, and in this county on a forgery charge. I believe that he is wanted in eight or ten different places in the country. The superintendent of the Florida state farm told me that Paynes was one of the worst men he had ever had at the farm."

COURT NEWS

In the circuit court the Montgomery county drainage case is still grinding along slowly, and when court adjourned Friday evening the evidence was still uncompleted. The following orders were entered yesterday by Judge Burton:

Court Orders.
John W. Davis, et al vs. Llewellyn Davies, et al. partition. Rule on complainants in original bill and defendants in cross bill to close evidence by Oct. 15 or to show cause.

Daisy F. Relschlag vs. W. E. Relschlag, divorce. Decree of divorce for the complainant on the ground of cruelty and drunkenness. The custody of the children was awarded to the complainant. A decree of divorce was granted to Mrs. Mary Beekman Ausmus and she was given the custody of her child. It was shown to the court that the defendant in the case was under imprisonment for the commission of a felony.

In the divorce proceeding of Mrs. Lella Sargent against John R. Sargent the court heard the evidence but has not yet entered a decree. In the divorce proceeding of Mrs. Martha McCarthy vs. J. W. McCarthy a decree of divorce was granted on the ground of desertion.

Added to the Docket.
One case was added to the docket yesterday when John A. Carlson, by his attorney, Judge M. T. Layman, brought an attachment suit against J. A. Wyatt.

Brian Ennis of Petersburg, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. George T. Daniels, and Miss Lucy Flickinger, came to Jacksonville for the concert Thursday night at which his sisters, Misses Elzora and Beulah Ennis, graduated. Members of the party while here were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Veerlin Daniels and Mrs. James Gunn. They returned to Petersburg yesterday, accompanied by Misses Elzora Ennis and Lois Daniels.

DEVELOPMENTS AFFORD NEW PROOF OF THE STABILITY OF FINANCE

Statistical Comparisons Reflect Progressive Improvement—Iron and Steel Trade Holds Its Own.

New York, May 14—Dun's will say tomorrow: The developments of the week afford new proof of the essential stability and power of the financial and business structure. While there is uncertainty as to the final outcome, there is faith in the nation to adapt itself, with financial readiness, to every contingency that may arise.

Outside of the stock, cotton and other equally sensitive markets, the effect of the new war developments has not materially changed the generally favorable aspect of the trade situation. With scarcely an exception, statistical comparisons, by which progressive improvement and that the steady gain in bank clearings is not wholly due to the expansion in speculative operations is indicated by the continued increases at many of the leading centers outside of New York. Railroad earnings make a better exhibit and the larger traffic movements have resulted in a notable falling off in the number of idle cars. Failures and unemployment have decreased. The iron and steel trade holds its own and continues on the same encouraging basis of output as before. There is continued activity in the cotton goods trade. Bank clearings this week aggregate $3,210,971,433, an increase of 23.6 percent over last year.

RE-ORGANIZE BIG COAL COMPANY.

Chicago, May 14—Big financial interests, including Kuhn, Loeb & Co. of New York are completing the re-organization of the Dering Coal Co., one of the biggest coal projects of the middle west, by the purchase of some 15,000 acres of coal lands by auction at Danville and Terra Haute. By direction of the United States courts of Danville and Indianapolis, the coal lands are being auctioned. Kuhn, Loeb & Co. recently bought some $7,000,000 worth of bonds and stocks under the hammer for $681,500. Stock to the amount of $3,349,600 brought a bid of $2,500 and claims against the defunct company aggregating $250,000 brought $200.

It is said that the coal tracts to be auctioned to the highest bidder are the most valuable tracts in the United States. When the original company was launched ten years ago, ten millions in gold bonds and capital stock were issued. The Chicago and Eastern Illinois R. R. purchased practically all of the issue, then transferred the securities to Kuhn, Loeb & Co. and the Continental Bank as collateral. A few months ago they received for the railroad announced the road's inability to continue payment of interest on the railroad company's notes and the foreclosure took place.

MR. SPAULDING HERE.

Commissioner Willis J. Spaulding of Springfield was in Jacksonville yesterday for a few hours, the guest of his brother-in-law, F. H. Bode. Mr. Spaulding, who was recently re-elected in Springfield after a very tempestuous campaign, has had a great deal to do with the development of the light and water departments in the capital city and a great deal of further work is planned. Much of the opposition he had to face was because of his advocacy of the uniting of the light and water plants in Springfield. The utility company there led in the fight against him and had the aid of various powerful influences.

CONDEMNATION OF KAISER AND HIS ADVISORS REPLACES RIOTS

Lord Beresford Urges That all German Property in British Empire be Confiscated.

London, May 14.—(11:05 p. m.)

The riots which occurred earlier in the week have given place to condemnation by public men of the German emperor and his advisors who are charged with the responsibility for the actions which have aroused public anger. The demand is made that the British government publicly proclaim the personal responsibility of members of the German government for the "outrages perpetrated by German officers or their agents during the present war."

A resolution in this sense was moved at a public meeting in Chelsea tonight by Lord Charles Beresford and was seconded by Lord Robert Cecil. It was unanimously passed.

Lord Beresford urged that all German property in the British empire be confiscated and that all rich Germans, whether naturalized or not, be interned until "British prisoners in Germany are treated as honorable prisoners of war."

Lord Cecil said he had been told that Emperor William did not approve of what had been done but the speaker declared that if the German emperor disapproved and allowed these things to go on he was ten times as guilty and must be punished; there must be one condition of any peace.

Louis Harcourt, British secretary of state for the colonies, speaking at a meeting on the waterfront tonight, said that Germany stood at the bar of the world a naked and an unshamed monster simulating humanity but in fact a reversion to prehistoric barbarism.

A Battle of Statistics.

Big Gun No. 1—"Your public schools, with their frits and fads, with women teachers and their coddling methods are driving the boys out upon the streets. If something is not done to correct this fault, the parents and tax payers will have to establish another system of schools which will attract and hold warm blooded boys."

Big Gun No. 2—"The statistics of the public schools of Illinois show that in 1914 there were enrolled 528,656 boys and 515,171 girls, or 12,885 more boys than girls."

Big Gun No. 1—"Of course that it easily explained. Many parents who send their daughters to private and parochial schools, send their sons to the public schools. That easily accounts for the excess of boys enrolled in your public schools."

Big Gun No. 2—"Let us see. There were enrolled in the private and parochial schools of Illinois for the year 1914, 103,514 boys, and 190,197 girls, or 3,314 more boys than girls."

Big Gun No. 1—"That does not look right; your figures must be wrong. But, however that may be, I am sure that there is a larger percentage of the girls of school age enrolled than there are boys of that age, which will prove my point."

Big Gun No. 2—"Again let us consult facts. In 1914 there were 831,682 boys in Illinois between the ages of 6 and 21 years. Now, the statistics show that 76 per cent of these were enrolled in the public and private schools. There were 818,576 girls in the state between the ages of 6 and 21 years of age. 75 per cent of these were enrolled in the public and private schools."

Big Gun No. 1, after emitting a little more smoke and a little more noise, grew silent.—State Superintendent F. G. Blair in School News.
